A BIRTHDAY.

By CHRISTINA GEORGINA ROSSETTI.

Other selections from this author, her portrait, autograph and biographical sketch have already been printed in this series.

Y heart is like a singing bird Whose nest is in a watered shoot; My heart is like an apple tree Whose boughs are bent with thick-set fruit; My heart is like a rainbow shell That paddles in a halcyon sea; My heart is gladder than all these

Because my love is come to me.

man, however, and I hope to be able to keep busy until the day my Creator sees fit to end my career on this earth. Life, too, is short, and to the busy man the journey across the Atlantic is, even in these days of fast steamers, an aggravatingly slow undertaking."

Mr. Caine is of the opinion that there is a decay of honor and chivalry among men, especially here and in England, and he thinks that the sensitional newspaper and the bad example shown by men of wealth in their business methods are in great measure responsible.

"There are certain features of our life to-day," he said, "which expose us to moral forces of corruption, diffuses to us the concentrated scandal of the globe, whereas formerly we were limited to the gossip of the town.
